

CUSD Migrant Education Program

Purpose

The purpose of the Migrant Education program is to ensure that migrant students receive equitable access to high-quality educational opportunities that support their academic success and personal growth. This program addresses the unique needs of students who experience frequent mobility, language barriers, and economic challenges by providing targeted instruction, academic support, health and wellness services, and family engagement opportunities. The goal is to promote educational continuity, improve student outcomes, and empower migrant families as active partners in their children's learning journey.

Who are Migrant Workers?

According to Sections 1309 and 1115(b)(1)(A) (which applies by reference) of the statute and 34 CFR 200.40(c) and (e) of the regulations, children who are migrant and have had the basis for their MEP eligibility are properly recorded and may receive services. Migrant workers seek temporary or seasonal work in agriculture, fishing, or related industries, including food processing. They follow the growing seasons across the country and are largely responsible for the cultivation and harvest of fruits, vegetables, and many other food products. Many migrant workers have an average income below the national poverty line. While many migrant families consider California to be their home base, others come from other states and countries.
